Talbert House Announces Vice President of Community Care

Amelia Orr appointed to oversee agency's service line

CINCINNATI— Talbert House is pleased to announce the promotion of Amelia Orr as Vice President of Community Care.

Amy has a rich array of experience with over 20 years working with youth, families, and adults in a variety of social service settings. She has been a director at Talbert House since 2008 in its School Based Services and Cincinnati Court and Corrections service areas. Prior to joining the agency, Amy held a series of progressively responsible positions at Volunteers of America. She also served as executive director of Community Counseling and Crisis Center in Butler County. Amy has an LPCC-S and LICDC-CS as well as Bachelor's and Master's degrees from Xavier University. She is a resident of Finneytown and has a son.

Talbert House's Community Care service line includes community outreach, prevention and education, employment and workforce development, the Fatherhood Project, social enterprises, victim services, and more. Community Care services are funded in part by the United Way of Greater Cincinnati.

Neil Tilow, president and CEO, says, "The combination of Amy's experience and education along with her proven commitment to our mission will enable her to quickly make a positive impact in her expanded leadership role."
