Cincinnati Young Professionals Team Up to Fight Overdoses
Opioid Prevention training will be held on January 17

CINCINNATI— Talbert House’s young professionals board, known as the Ambassadors, is teaming up with the University of Cincinnati School of Pharmacy for a community-based training session to combat the heroin epidemic and frequent overdoses occurring throughout Cincinnati’s neighborhood communities. The training will be held on Wednesday, January 17, 2017 from 6:00 to 7:30 PM hosted at UC’s Kowalewski Hall located at 3255 Eden Avenue.

This training, made possible by the City of Cincinnati, provides guidance related to opioid overdose response and instruction on how to administer the lifesaving drug naloxone, also known by the brand name Narcan®. The non-narcotic medication will be furnished to attendees after the session. All residents and students of the city of Cincinnati are encouraged to attend.

Registration is free and required. Reserve your spot by following the link at www.talberthouse.org. Additional neighborhood sessions will continue to be added.
